

Haunted by your Ghosts

Lyrics: Priester

Music: Priester, Mello, Martinez, Laguna, Vieira

There is no safe place to hide
You can even take the prize
But I will never let you play with my life

Just take a breath and start again
A brand new day, never the same
If you don't make it happen
How can you go on?
There is no time to cry

And I know and I know
I need to find something worth living for
And I know and I know
I have no answers, but I'm looking for

The scars of love may keep me safe
But I can't stand living this lie
I must confess what's going on in my mind

You don't care about the past
But something keeps holding you back
If you don't make it happen
How can you go on?
There is no time to cry

And I know and I know
I need to find something worth living for
And I know and I know
I have no answers, but I'm looking for
When you learn to lose
There are no limits in your way
When you share a dream
You don't look back on yesterday